KINNEY SURPRISES FOLKS

WINS LEXINGTON'S CHIEF RACING FEATURE
UNDER A MASTERLY RIDE.

The Favorite Jacoba Presses Him Closely at the Finish—Great Crowd Views the Sport of the Last Day.

Lexington, Ky., May 5.—The sixth running of the Kentucky Association's spring program, resulted in an upset when the outsider Kinney, by Dick Welles—Lady Strathmore, and owned by T. P. Hayes, scored an impressive victory after a grueling struggle with Jacoba, the favorite, a half length margin separating them at the finish, while six lengths behind came Senator J. N. Camden's Bellita, with Gipsev George following. Loftus, who rode the winner, was alert at the post and rushed Kinney into the lead at once, Jacoba being his closest pursuer. The pair drew out from the others when entering the stretch and then began a terrific struggle between the riders of the leaders. Loftus worked like a Trojan and Butwell also put energy in his effort. The filly stood the test extra well, but the colt held on in splendid fashion and gave no ground during the last sixteenth. Bellita dropped into third place in the last quarter and held onto that position of the race for the remainder of the trip. Gipsev George was unprepared at the start, which resulted in his getting a good bit of the worst of the sendoff. He closed up resolutely in the stretch and by finishing fourth saved his starting fee of $50. The winner's net portion of the stakes was $4,329.30. Jacoba received $1,227 and Bellita $918.50.

Getaway day here brought a record-breaking attendance to view the final day's sport. Secretary Shelley surrounded the Breckers' Futurity with six other good races that produced excellent sport. The betting was again of voluminous proportions. The meeting terminated this afternoon was by far the best ever held at this course. The daily attendance has been extra large, far in excess of the management's best expectations. A record was established for the volume of speculation and the sport throughout has been wholesome and praiseworthy.

Backers of favorites suffered extensively during the afternoon, for the choices were bowled over with regularity. Their downfall was inaugurated in the opener when Manic failed and in succession followed the defeats of Gabriel, Margaret N., Jacoba, Royal Tea and Jessie Louise.

Big delegations came over from Cincinnati, Louisville and adjacent points to witness the closing day's sport.

P. Sheridan will take his entire string of racers to Toronto, where they will take part in Canadian racing this season.

R. L. Baker will be represented in the Kentucky Derby by Emerson Cochran, on which Walter Taylor will have the mount. Pif Jr. has gone slightly amiss and will be rested for some time.

Jockey Butwell departed for Louisville immediately after the running of the Breckers' Futurity. He will be astride Roamer tomorrow morning to give that horse a stiff workout.

Messrs. Andrew Miller, H. K. Knapp, T. Hitchcock, John Sanford, Price McKinney, Matty Corbett, P. J. Dwyer and Chief Lally will remain in Lexington and visit the various stock farms until Friday, when they will motor over to Louisville.

The eastern visitors this season will witness the running of the Kentucky Derby, which will be far in excess of those of any former period.

E. R. Bradley today sold Consuelo II. to John Sanford, and that stud matron was shipped to Hurricana farm at Amsterdam, N. Y., to join the others in Mr. Sanford's breeding establishment.

Secretary Shelley will be delayed here until tomorrow looking after minor details connected with the winding up of the meeting.

Jockey T. Rice will have the mount on Norse King if trainer Hirsch decides to start him in the Kentucky Derby.

Sureget and Maznik in the two-horse combination yielded $62.13. The field players each got $8.30 of the pool in the three-horse play, due to failure of anyone to name Blackthorn, Any Port and Howdy Howdy.

The following were among the best work-outs this morning:

Alamaba—Three-quarters in 1:23.
Allan Bridge—Three-quarters in 1:45.
Bayberry Candle—Three-quarters in 1:17.
Bulgarian—Three-quarters in 1:46.
Chalmers—Five-eighths in 1:02.
Dark Flower—Three-quarters in 1:32.
Dr. Samuel—Three-quarters in 1:43.
Eustace—Three-quarters in 1:43.
Flying Tom—Five-eighths in 1:09.
Huntress—Five-eighths in 1:03.
Lady Jane Grey—Three-quarters in 1:47.
Lady Errant—Three-quarters in 1:47.
Liberator—Five-eighths in 1:03.
Miss Thorpe—Three-quarters in 1:16.
Mary Estelle—Half mile in 50.
Star Jasmine—Three-quarters in 1:33.
Sun Queen—Five-eighths in 1:04.
Split—Three-quarters in 1:19.
Stanley S.—Half mile in 52.
Undaunted—Three-quarters in 1:18.
Vogue—Five-eighths in 1:04.

KENILWORTH RACE TRACK NO MORE.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 5.—Kenilworth Race Track has just been sold to John G. Sattler, a Buffalo shoe merchant. August Belmont owned the property and through his Buffalo representative, George S. Metcalfe, he refused an offer of $120,000 cash for the property a few months ago. Where once thrived of thoroughbred racing gathered, where later Buffalo crowds thronged to see aeroplane races and automobile contests, Mr. Sattler will build a village of attractive homes.

August Belmont took over Kenilworth in 1903 after Edward L. Koons had been named receiver for the Buffalo Association for the improving of horse breeding. It was this association which developed the property. With the passage of the Hart-Agnew law racing closed at Kenilworth.

MONTREAL STAKES WELL PATRONIZED.

Montreal, Que., May 5.—Five stakes to be run during the spring meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club closed with a highly satisfactory entry list.

The local horses are farther advanced than they were one year ago, which is accounted for from the fact that the early spring enabled trainers to start their work much earlier than usual. The going at Blue Bonnets is in fairly good condition, and with another week's work will be ready for the horses to train along on.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Bert F. Buffalo, N. Y. Guy Fisher defeated Uncle Ben and others in a race of a mile and seventy yards at Pimlico, November 4, 1914.

T. D. H. Chicago. Means quarter post, half mile post, three-quarters post, "Str." means about half way down the homestretch, say an eighth of a mile away. "Finish" speaks for itself.

DERBY CANDIDATES WHICH ARE SURE TO GO AND THEIR PROBABLE RIDERS

Louisville, Ky., May 5.—As the running of the Kentucky Derby rapidly approaches, the belief continues to grow and every indication points to a field of unusual size going to the post. Below will be found a table of the absolutely certain starters, with color and sex of each, the sire, owner, weight to be carried and probable jockey, followed by another list embracing horses that are among the probable starters:

Horse	Wt.	Owner	Jockey
Peabody	117	James Butler	C. Borel
Regret	112	H. P. Whitney	J. Notter
Royal II	117	J. Livingston	A. Neylon
Double Eagle	117	Quincy Stable	C. Burlingame
Ed Crump	117	W. W. Schorr	J. Kederis
Sharpshooter	114	Schuyler Parsons	J. Loftus
Dorch	110	W. W. Darden	E. Pool
Little String	117	M. B. Gruber	E. Martin
For Fair	117	G. M. Miller	R. Goose
Uncle Bryn	117	Mrs. R. W. Walden	J. McCahey
Emerson Cochran	117	R. L. Baker	W. Taylor
Norse King	117	P. B. Lemaire	J. McCabe
Goldcrest Boy	114	J. W. Schorr	J. Kederis

Some of the following less certain but probable starters may also go in the big race:

Horse	Wt.	Owner
Phosphor	117	H. L. Parsons
Spun Glass	117	S. P. Whitney
Booker Bill	117	M. C. Moore
Manager Waite	117	T. C. McDowell
Bars and Stars	114	E. R. Bradley
Tetan	117	Johnson & Crosthwaite
Waterproof	114	C. E. & John Hamilton
Chalmers	117	J. S. Hawkins

Even in case of anything like unsettled weather, the field in the Kentucky Derby this season would suffer little in the scratching line, as many of the probable starters are considered good mud runners. A glance over the list of certain and probable starters marks the race this season one of the most uncertain in speculation of any in the long years' history of this event. Any number of the sure starters in the big race next Saturday are known to possess the highest order of speed and their breeding also indicates that they will go a distance of ground. The event this year was never as free of mishaps in training of the great stars eligible. They have all done well in their preliminary racing even, and those that have not had a race, are trained to the bone. While it is generally conceded that Peabody and Regret will divide honors in favoritism, the support given Royal II. will be strong, and since Ed Crump's work of a mile and an eighth in 1:53, he will also have good backing. Max Hirsch, who trains Norse King, also has a following to play his judgment on this son of Fair Play, which he makes no secret of saying will be one of the chief contenders at the wind-up of the race. Sharpshooter also has many friends and the same can be said of Double Eagle and For Fair, while Dorch will be one of the best backed maidens that ever started in a Kentucky Derby.

Norse King is a colt of most heroic size and power and must not be condemned because he is a cast-off from A. Belmont's stable. Old-timers can remember when the father of the present chairman of the Jockey Club let two colts leave his establishment and they turned out to be Badger and King Crab, the former afterwards the winner of several races. Norse King is a half-brother to Norman II., which won the Two Thousand Guineas in 1908 and was the favorite that spring for the Epsom Derby. Hirsch started Norse King three times in Maryland before coming here and at that he should have won all his starts, and at that he was only once beaten. He is a member of the famous Levy tribe of horses on the dam's side, to which Salvador, Leonatus, Longstreet, Tammany and other great three-year-olds belonged. The thought that Peabody is not bred to go the Derby distance is not well founded. The sire was a Kentucky Derby winner and his dam is full of the economy and Sterling blood from a line of stayers. The fact that his first dam is of the speedy Alarm cross, makes him in that respect bred like Old Rosebud in his first line. Old Rosebud was out of a mare by Himyar, while Peabody was out of a mare by Domino, a son of Himyar.

This early the city is rapidly filling up with visitors who are coming before the race to be sure to secure choice hotel accommodations. Though many of the leading hotels have already reserved quarters for visitors to their limit, there is an abundance of suitable rooms easily available to strangers in the many modern apartment houses and flat buildings in this city, all of which possess all the comforts and conveniences of the most up-to-date hotels. So none need keep away from Louisville next Saturday thinking they cannot secure the best accommodation during their stay in this city to see the Derby run. All can come that desire to and be assured they will find a race track big enough now to accommodate the greatest of outdoor crowds and a guarantee is given them that they will witness a great Derby and three-year-old contest on Saturday next.

Mackenzie & Adkins' string, consisting of Buckhorn, Sea Shell, Helen Barbee, San Vega and Leo Skolny, has reached here from Lexington and are now quartered at Churchill Downs. This firm's jockey, T. McTaggart, has at present no mount in the Kentucky Derby, but in case trainer James Rowe concludes to also start Spun Glass in the big race with her stable companion, Regret, then he will ride that daughter of Rock Sand in the big race.

E. W. McGinn, handicapper at Churchill Downs, Douglas Park and Latonia, has arrived here for the season. His many friends are delighted to know that this noted racing official is now enjoying the best of health and is stouter and stronger this spring than he has been in years. Since coming here he has been making himself familiar with the various stables of horses, to in this way, sit out the handicap division from the selling plater class. He was amazed with the list of stables submitted to him and the wonderfully high-class of the horses which will race on the Kentucky tracks this season.

W. H. Timmons, one of the old-time turfmen in the days when Guttenberg and Gloucester flourished, is an early arrival to see the Kentucky Derby run and other great racing in this state this spring and summer. He owned and raced many good horses in the old days.

Regret worked the full Derby distance this morning in 2:08.5. Fractionals 12.25, 37.50, 1:02.46, 1:15.5, 1:28, 1:41, 1:55. She pulled up a bit tired but cooled out in great shape and did her work without a pacemaker. Ed Crump worked a mile and an eighth at Douglas Park in 1:52. Fractionals 12.25, 35.47, 59, 1:12, 1:39.5. He pulled up a little tired but cooled out well.

STATISTICS OF LEXINGTON RACING.

CLOSE PIMLICO FINISHES

POMETTE BLEU TAKES THE FEATURE IN THE DAY'S ONLY EASY RACE.

Lazuli a Much Improved Plater—Slow Track Is Drying Up—Movements of Owners and Horses to Other Tracks.

Baltimore, Md., May 5.—Driving finishes attended the running of a majority of the races at Pimlico this afternoon. The races were mostly of the sprint variety and the stable of R. T. Wilson furnished the winner of the feature, the Arlington Handicap, in Pomette Bleu, which made a runaway affair of it. She was the easiest winner of the afternoon and at the finish led Brave Cuander by three lengths.

Lazuli, which has developed into a highly useful plater, accounted for the Merchants' Selling Handicap. This race furnished the best finish of the afternoon, Lazuli just managing to get up in the closing stride to beat Progressive by a nose. The latter was probably best, but right at the end took a tiring swerve over to the inside where the footing was soft and this accounted for his defeat.

The attendance was again large and speculation brisk. The track dried out some as the afternoon progressed, and tomorrow the going should be much better.

The stewards issued a ruling which brought suspension of jockeys Metcalf and McAtee for five days, their offense being rough riding.

The stable of jumpers owned by Ambrose Clark will be shipped to Belmont Park tomorrow, and W. A. Gurttschell will leave with his string for Toronto during the latter part of next week.

St. Lazerian came out of his race of yesterday decidedly lame and will probably be a non-starter for a few weeks.

E. M. Weld, Candian brewer, and "Diamond Jim" Brady were among the visitors at Pimlico this afternoon.

Matt J. Winn, general manager, and Richard Johnson, president of the Laurel track, passed through Baltimore this morning on their way to Louisville to be on hand for the running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

Harry Payne Whitney left for Kentucky with a party of friends in his private car. The Whitney party hope to see the unbeaten filly Regret capture the Derby, and they are much encouraged by the reports from trainer James Rowe. Several big commissions have already been placed on Regret by easterners.

Elmer Wilson, one of starter A. B. Dade's assistants, departed for Toronto tonight. He will erect one of the Dade barriers at Woodbine and school all of the two-year-olds prior to the opening of the meeting.

The condition books of the Woodbine meeting were received by Joseph McLennan this morning and were distributed among the horsemen here.

W. C. Capps arrived from Havre de Grace this morning with the sprinter Monty Fox. He brought word over that Albert Simons had changed his plans about shipping to Canada and instead will send the Whitney horses to Belmont Park.

C. G. Billings, accompanied by Frederick Johnson, arrived from New York this afternoon. They will remain over for several days to enjoy the Pimlico racing.

Recent workouts at Pimlico over a fast track:

Trainer Barry Littlefield arrived from Waterloo with sixteen horses belonging to President Joseph E. Seagram of the Ontario Jockey Club. They are: Rustling, Vastato, Froissart, Sea Lord, Sir Laurence, Dark Rosaleen, Smithfield, Charon, Golden Jug, Turn Silk, Mandarin, Alecto, Galicia, Gala Day, Late Hours and Sweet Colleen. Jockeys Groth, Burns and Goldstein will do the stable riding in the Canadian-bred events, and Groth will continue with the stable throughout the season. The horses are in the best of condition, and the Seagram supporters are pretty confident that this year's Plate will go to Waterloo, which has not sent out a winner since Seismic in 1908.

At a meeting of the Canadian Racing Association here today, President J. E. Seagram in the chair, it was resolved that the entries of J. W. Hedrick's horses should not be received, pending his suspension by the Jockey Club and until further consideration by the Canadian Racing Association. The ruling of the Jockey Club of March 26, debaring Joe Knight and Jockey P. Wolfe from further privileges, will be sustained here during its effect by the Jockey Club.

The next meeting of the Canadian Racing Association will be held May 20, and trainers and jockeys intending to participate in Canadian racing this season must have their applications for licenses filed by that time or they will not be granted.

Only two King's Platers worked this morning. Pepper Sauce, with Annie Jean for company the last seven-eighths, worked a mile in 1:44 1/2 and a mile and a quarter in 2:14. Gartley was sent a mile in 1:49.

SEVERE SIMPLICITY AT ROYAL ASCOT.

The Ascot race meeting, which hitherto has been one of the chief events of the social season, is to be shorn of all its social glory this year and will be held merely to meet the necessities of the breeding of blooded stock. King George is taking a great amount of interest in the arrangements for the meeting, his Majesty being desirous of keeping it within the severest limits.

The Royal Hunt Cup, the heavy betting event of the meeting, will be missing from this year's card and the King has expressed a desire that the racing shall commence in the morning of each day and finish before luncheon.

A cablegram received in London from Calcutta states that the Derby sweepstakes, which is one of the largest in the world, is proceeding but will probably be a small affair this year, mainly confined to members of the Calcutta Turf Club.

STOCKWELL AND ST. SIMON AS SIRE.

Until St. Simon came on the scene there never was a thoroughbred sire in what may be termed modern times that achieved anything like the same wonderful success as Stockwell, which may be said to have reached his zenith as a stallion in 1866, when three of his sons, Lord Lyon, Savernake, and Rustic, occupied the three leading places in the Derby. Not only that, for Lord Lyon and Monarch of Glen (also his son) Stockwell ran first and second for the Two Thousand Guineas, and the first two in the Derby occupied the same positions in the St. Leger, while Repulse secured for Stockwell the One Thousand Guineas. In the matter of the total amounts won by his sons, Stockwell's record was considerably inferior to that of St. Simon, for in the twenty-four seasons that the stock of the great son of Galopin won races in this country they amassed the huge sum in stakes of $2,743,596.25. From a table compiled by Mr. Moorhouse it can be seen that the sons and daughters of Stockwell won their total of $1,794,945 in only nineteen years, their sire dying as the result of an accident when only twenty-one years old. The get of St. Simon therefore (which lived to twenty-two) had an advantage of five years over the offspring of the mighty golden chestnut son of The Baron—Pocahontas. In Stockwell's day, moreover, there were no "ten-thousand-pounders" to swell his winning total, whereas sons of St. Simon among them carried off four Eclipse Stakes, two Prince of Wales Stakes, and two Jockey Club Stakes. When Stockwell's death occurred early in May, 1870, it was given out that he died of internal inflammation, but not many years ago this was corrected, and Griffiths, who witnessed the accident, has now confirmed the version that he reared up when brought into the covering yard, over-balanced, and fell on to his tail, with the result that his spine was broken about four joints from the crupper. Griffiths states: "We got Stockwell back to his box and tried to communicate with Mr. Naylor, who was away racing at the time. Day after day went by without our hearing anything. Stockwell died about the ninth day, May 5. It was the greatest death I ever saw. He had walked continually round his box, and at the end gave a loud neigh and dropped to the ground dead. I never saw a man as cut up as old Mat Vea (the man that looked after him). He cried for nearly a week, and I heard him say, in a sobbing voice, 'I'd as soon have lost our 'Ria,' which was not exactly complimentary to his wife, Maria." Stockwell has the great height of crest so noticeable in the old pictures of the Godolphin Barb, and which was also present in marked degree in St. Simon. Griffiths was at Hooton all the time Stockwell was there, and to Mr. Moorhouse he confided a deal of most interesting matter concerning his experiences at stud groom, not only there, but also under his father with Mr. Chadlin at Blankney, with Mr. Hume Webster at Marden Deer Park, and the late Bowzer, Duchess of Montrose. I must not quote further, however, and suffice it to say that Griffiths tells several interesting and amusing anecdotes of the estimable but somewhat plain-spoken lady which are new. At all events, I do not recollect having seen them in print before.

Although from the point of view of stakes won St. Simon was an easy first it is a dead-heat between him and Stockwell in regard to the number of classes by which their offspring came up having sired the winners of seventeen, Stockwell's list includes three Derbys (Blair Athol, Lord Lyon, and Doncaster); four races for the Two Thousand (The Marquis, Lord Lyon, Bothwell, Gangwayward); three of the One Thousand (Lady Augusta, Repulse, and Achievement); one Oaks (Regalia); and six St. Leger (St. Albans, Caller On, The Marquis, Blair Athol, Lord Lyon, and Achievement). St. Simon's seventeen classic races consisted of two Derbys (Persimmon and Diamond Jubilee); four One Thousand (Semolina, La Fleche, Amiable, and Winifreda); five races for the Oaks (Memoir, La Fleche, Mrs. Putterwick, Amiable, and La Roche); and four St. Leger (Memoir, La Fleche, Persimmon, and Diamond Jubilee).—Vigilant in London Sportsman.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

Latest reports in regard to the vicious fighting near Ypres are conflicting. The Berlin claim yesterday says: "The statement issued today at army headquarters relates that the British continue their retreat, with heavy losses, east of Ypres, and that a strong French attack delivered yesterday north-west of Pont-a-Mousson broke down under the German fire, with heavy losses to the attackers. The text of the communication is as follows: The British continue their retreat with heavy losses, in the direction of the head-quarters of the British army of Ypres. The Van Heule and Eksterst farms, the castle ground of Herouthage and the Set Papotte farm were taken by us." No British statement is made but the French war office gave out the following statement: "North of Ypres the German yesterday evening delivered an attack against the left sector of the British front. They were repulsed and taken in the flank by the French artillery and suffered serious losses."

A London statement of yesterday touching operations in Flanders, says: A dispatch from Rotterdam to the London Daily Telegraph says that there was furious fighting northeast of Ypres all day yesterday, where the Germans are making tremendous efforts to advance from Gravenstave and straighten their line from St. Julien to Zonnebeke. The British forces are clinging tenaciously to the villages in this corner, although they have been subjected to a flanking fire at several points. The military critics of the London papers interpret Sir John French's announcement of the readjustment of his line to the necessity of avoiding the cross-fire to which the British's salient had been exposed. It is supposed that the line now curves about three miles east of Ypres. The abandonment of the salient is not regarded as endangering the position or as being in any way serious.

London advices say that Smyrna is ready to surrender to the allied fleet which has been bombarding the city and fortifications intermittently since the early part of March. According to a dispatch from Athens, the declaration is made that the Vah has entered into fresh negotiations with the allies for the hoisting of the white flag. That there is truth in this report was not denied at a war office. News was given out that a squadron of British ships will be unable to enter the harbor of the land forts in the gulf of Smyrna and that the response is feeble. Allied troops landed thirty-five miles south-southeast of Smyrna. It is believed that they will co-operate with the warships in the capture of Smyrna in the event that the Vah does not surrender.

Serious trouble seems to be developing between China and Japan. A Peking dispatch of yesterday says: "One hundred thousand troops by order of President Yuan Shi Kai, have been mobilized and within a day or two will be concentrated in the environs of Peking. These military preparations are being made for the defense of the capital, as an ultimatum from Japan regarding the refusal by the republic of its demands is momentarily expected. According to Chinese officials, whose statements have been corroborated in other circles, the government is making no preparations elsewhere than at the capital for defense, considering that the Chinese will be unable to oppose the Japanese should they make an attack."

In further description of the alleged Russian reverse in western Galicia, a Berlin dispatch of yesterday says: "The southern wing of the Russian army in West Galicia has been broken along a front of twenty-four miles, according to a dispatch to the Tageblatt. The Russians were forced to abandon their positions in the best of the villages back of the front, which they had held. Only in Gorlice did the Russians make a stand. This town was destroyed by an artillery bombardment and a bitter street fight preceded its capture by the Germans. All the staff officers of one Russian division were killed or wounded, including several generals."

A considerable minority of the socialist party in the German reichstag opposed voting of the full war credit demanded by the government, according to the Berlin Vossische Zeitung, a copy of which has been received in London. At a meeting of the socialist party before the session of the reichstag which voted the credits a series of resolutions were taken. The resolutions are declared to have opposed voting the credit of $2,500,000,000, but it was decided by sixty-nine votes to thirty that the party should support the budget as a whole.

A dispatch from London yesterday says: "The British trawlers Iolanthe, Hero and Northward Ho were torpedoed and sunk by German submarines in the North Sea. The Iolanthe was a trawler. The bridge was caught in a mine net of Grimby and destroyed by the resultant explosion. Advices from Hull state that it is feared there that other trawlers have been destroyed. In the last twenty-four hours at least seven have been lost."

From Paris comes the statement that two Turkish aeroplanes have been brought down by shells from allied warships, according to a dispatch from Saloniki. Setting out from Seddual-Bahr, the aeroplanes flew over the fleet, dropping several bombs, all of which, however, fell harmlessly in the water. They had put out to sea to reconnoiter Lemnos and Tenedos when they were brought down. The German aviators were rescued and made prisoners.

Yesterday's Baseball Results—National League: Chicago 5, Cincinnati 0; Boston 6, Brooklyn 1; New York 4, Philadelphia 2. American League: Cleveland 1, Chicago 0; Philadelphia 2, New York 1; Boston 1, Washington 0. Federal League: Baltimore 4, Chicago 3; St. Louis 3, Brooklyn 0.

Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the British government had requisitioned all supplies of meat from Australia and New Zealand. The supplies not needed for the army will be marketed to prevent price increases.

A dispatch from Petrograd of May 4 states that the "Russian forces in the Khori-Dalmion region of the Caucasus have administered a crushing defeat to the Turkish troops under Khali Bey. Turkish losses were heavy, 3,500 dead being found on the field after the battle."

Some evidence of the advance of the allies on the north coast of the Gallipoli is given by a Havaas dispatch from Athens, which says that the inhabitants of Gallipoli and other parts of the peninsula are crossing in large numbers to the Asiatic shore.

The casualty lists published in London, May 5, contain the names of more than 170 officers killed, wounded or missing. These make a total of over 570 reported within four days.

WHERE THE THOROUGHBRED DOMINATES.

The Hunt Clubs of Britain have recently supplied from eighteen to twenty thousand horses to the British army. But for racing, what would be the quality of the men who are following? Hackneys in instances can be trained to jump, but where would they be as travelers across country, over hedges, ditches, walls and trenches for twelve or fifteen miles without a current of thoroughbred blood? Trotters and pacers, too, can be made useful under saddle, but what position would they occupy in a charge with the well bred, three-quarter bred or whole bred? Without racing Britain would have been so badly handicapped in the war for want of qualified horses that she would have been brought to the brink of ruin long ago. There is something to be said of the fact that while she has benefited by the aid of the men who are following, she has also helped the other countries, and especially France, Germany and Russia. But it is not only in the horse itself that the benefit of racing is to be seen. It is also apparent in the quality of the men who are fighting. Their love of sport has given them health, strength and courage, and their love of the horse, which racing has fostered, and their ability to ride have given them daring on the one hand and the coolness in danger on the other. Sportsmanship will win more battles than hate ever will.—"Old Timer" in Montreal Mail.

FORT ERIE STAKES OPEN FOR ENTRIES.

The Niagara Racing Association offers for the consideration and patronage of owners a list of seven stake races, four of which will be contested at its first meeting, July 3 to 10, and three at its second meeting, August 3 to 11. All will close for entries at midnight of Tuesday, May 11, and are of good value. The list follows:

For the July Meeting.

Canadian Derby, three-year-olds, $3,500 guaranteed; 1-1-4 miles.
July 3 Stakes, three-year-olds and over, $1,500 added; 1 mile and 70 yards.
Fort Erie Stakes, three-year-olds and over, $1,500 added; 3-4 mile.

For the August Meeting.

Dominion Handicap, three-year-olds and over, $3,000 guaranteed; 1-4 mile.
Canadian Sportsman's Handicap, three-year-olds and over, $1,500 added; 1-1-6 miles.
Iroquois Hotel Stakes, two-year-olds, $1,500 added; 3 1-2 furlongs.

Conditions of the events proffered are displayed in the club's advertisement published elsewhere in this issue of Daily Racing Form.

Winner—Br. f. by Plaudin—Emma Traummiller (trained by J. Lewis).

Went to post at 2:30. At post 2 minutes. Start good and slow. Won easily; second and third driving. CHRISTOPHINE was outstayed in the early running, but, closing a big gap, finished with a rush and won going away. BALFRON disposed of the pacemakers while rounding the far turn and took the lead, but tired in the last sixteenth. BEAUMONT BELLE tired after getting on even terms with the leader in the stretch. HERMIS JR. failed to stay after setting the pace to the far turn. HECTOGRAPH finished well. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.

Overweights—Hectograph, 4 pounds; Christophine, 3.
